No Tidings From the Anchoria-Schooner Steckbridge Lost.

New York, Oct. 9.-The steamer Annumber of callers at the company's office is daily increasing. The officials still hold to the original theory that the vessel has broken a shaft, and that the canvas which she earries is not sufficient for her to keep her course. She was in good condition when she left Scotland, they say, or she would not have been allowed to sail, as by the English law, a government survey has to be made of every ship before leaving the dock on every occasion.
